Dear Frits and Ida:

We find the summer suddenly looming up and have to make plans, and we hope to be able to integrate with yours.

We have to be in Paris until noon August 2 (Saturday) and would like to explore the possibility of stopping over in Copenhagen en route to Stockholm. We could either fly direct, say by SAS flight 566 and arrive at CPH at 7:50 PM Saturday evening, or take the 2 PM train and arrive 11:25 AM Sunday. Which would you recommend?

How are you planning to go to Stockholm? We feel we should get there before too late Monday noon or afternoon, but if you were planning to take the 11:40 AM train this would get in Monday evening at 10 PM, and this is not impossible.

There is some possibility of our stopping over during our return as well, though we are somewhat limited for time and are tempted to take a holiday on a fjord trip in Norway.

If you can let us know your intentions and alternative plans for the summer, as soon as possible, it would help us greatly in confirming our own plans. We are anxious to take advantage of this rare opportunity to see something of Scandinavia and it would be especially congenial if we can do this in the company of our friends. So let us know your own plans soon.

Hastily,

JL/ew
